basement or whether the water could be turned on or the toilets flushed.

These are only a few of the face value issues currently pending at the Kuhn residence. We won't take the time here to enumerate the nine reasons why the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) found Lot 24 unfit for a disposal works construction permit. We won't question here the nature of the percolation test taken at the site last October, nor the type of fill and impervious soil that comprises Lot 24.

We sympathize with the Kuhns in this, their first home, and we would like to say more. But we suppose we should await the court decision like everyone else.
